Access to Medical Reports Act 1988:

You need to understand these rights before you agree to us requesting a report from the medical practitioner treating you.

These rights do not relate to reports from practitioners who are not responsible for treating you. Also, when we ask for information from your medical records such as a copy of your medical notes, only the first point applies.

- You can withhold your consent, but if you do so, we might not be able to process your claim.
- If we need a report we will write to you to tell you the date it was requested.
- You can indicate in the box in section 4 Declaration and consent of this form if you would like to see any report from the medical practitioner before it is sent to us. You have 21 days from the date of our request to do this and it is up to you to contact the medical practitioner. If you change your mind before the report has been sent to us, you can contact your medical practitioner to see it. You have 21 days from the date of our request to do this.
- If you disagree with the information in the report, you can contact the medical practitioner to change it. If the medical practitioner does not agree with you, they will ask you to write a statement to be attached to the report that is sent to us.
- You can ask the medical practitioner to see the report at anytime within six months of the medical practitioner sending it to us.
- Your medical practitioner may charge you for a copy of the report. This charge is not covered by your scheme/policy.
- Your medical practitioner does not have to show you parts of the report if they think it could cause harm to your physical or mental health.
- If the report includes information about someone else, the medical practitioner will not show you that part of the report.
- If the medical practitioner does not want you to see part of their report, they will tell you in writing, but you can still view other parts of the report.

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR):

Information about health, medical history and any treatment that you have is sensitive personal information.

- We need your consent to process your sensitive personal information.
- If you would like to know what information we hold about you or to request erasure, please contact us.
- For a full description of how we gather and use your personal information and your rights under GDPR, please review our Privacy Policy at <https://alhealth.com/privacy.htm>

Auditing and the prevention and detection of crime.

We may audit the records of medical practitioners and hospitals to:

- Ensure that we are being correctly billed for their services;
- Prevent and detect crime, particularly fraud; or
- Review the performance of specialists.

Audits may be part of a programme or in response to a specific circumstance and may involve reviewing customers' medical records held by the person or organisation being audited.

We may need to share information that we receive with third parties. This includes medical experts, other insurers, the NHS Counter Fraud Security Management Service and the General Medical Council. We are required by law, in certain circumstances, to disclose information to law enforcement agencies about suspicions of fraudulent claims and other crimes.

This may involve adding non-medical information to a database that will be viewed by other insurers and law enforcement agencies. We are required to notify the General Medical Council or other relevant regulatory body about any issue where we have reason to believe a medical provider's fitness to practice may be impaired.
